

Support Student Learning by Expanding Standards-Aligned Library Resources Into the Classroom and the Home

Standards

Digital Content Solution

Strengthen the Value of Your Educational Content

Your school or district has many existing resources that can be used to support instruction, but finding the right resources that map to the standards being taught can be a lengthy process. Don't have a physical resource that map with the standard being taught? Fill the gap with educator-reviewed websites that have been mapped to academic standards. In one simple search, you can find quality content correlated to the standards you're teaching.

By automatically mapping your library resources and educator-reviewed websites to state, national and provincial standards, Follett's Standards service helps educators and media specialists find and access appropriate materials using fast, convenient searching options. Maximize your existing district and school investments by making sure your library and digital resources are mapped to standards.

Choosing Follett's Standards service can stretch your resource investment even further through seamless integration with Destiny® Library Manager™.

“School library media centers can contribute to improved student achievement by providing instructional materials aligned to the curriculum [and] by collaborating with teachers.”

— “The Achiever” newsletter,
U.S. Dept. of Education

Transform Your Library into an Indispensable Curriculum Tool

Work smarter with the resources you have. Standards allows for smarter curriculum development, giving librarians and educators time to accomplish other tasks.

Content and websites are mapped to the following standards:

- United States core and secondary subjects
- Common Core
- ISTE – NETS for Students, NCTE and NSTA
- AASL Learning standards
- NASPE National Standards & Grade Level Outcomes
- Next Generation Science Standards
- AERO – American Education Reaches Out
- Canadian Provincial core subjects
- Puerto Rico core subjects

Why Standards Make Sense

For Educators

- Making time to plan curriculum can be a challenge. Standards give your educators the flexibility to enhance their curriculum plans when it fits their schedule, anytime, anywhere – even from home.
- Streamline planning through easy identification of library materials and web resources for curriculum development 24/7.
- Foster student learning and target performance goals with additional resources that help you adapt curriculum to student's individual learning style.
- Identify and report on heavily accessed topic areas for making informed curriculum and collection development decisions.
- Save time using one interface that provides fast access to results.

For Media Specialists/Librarians

- Easily map and save time searching for standards-aligned books and websites.
- Reinforce your information specialist role in student learning, helping educators save time by directing them to resources they can use to create lesson plans.
- Increase visibility of state standards and standards-aligned resources throughout the school community.
- Create a low-cost, low-maintenance, curriculum-enhanced solution through seamless integration with Destiny® Library Manager™.

The Standards service helps maximize your existing library resources by mapping them to your standards and provides educator-reviewed websites that can fill the content gaps.

Easily Find Standards in a Few Simple Steps

- Follett's Standards subscription helps you find appropriate materials using fast, convenient searching options.
- Keyword search quickly zeros in on optimum information. A keyword limited by state, subject area and grade level presents the standard and leads you to the related results.
- Browse by an individual standard – as you drill through the hierarchy established by your state, you can choose to view websites and books related to the standard and grade level.

Support Student Success with Follett's Integrated Educational Technologies

Aligning your current resources to standards creates a low-cost, low-maintenance, curriculum-enhancing solution through seamless integration with Destiny Library Manager, giving students and staff easy access via browser-based technology.
